MINDFUL EATING PROGRAM - "SAVOR THE MOMENT" (FN1 - FN2)

Annette DeNies, LMSW

Food and eating have become a very big business with billions of dollars spent on advertising, often telling us what we should and should not eat. One day eggs are good for us. The next day, eggs are bad. Coconut oil? Grains? Sweeteners? With all this chatter and the busyness of our lives, it is hard to hear our own inner voice of wisdom. In mindful eating, we quiet the mind and listen to what the body and heart need. Through guided, mindful eating exercises, we will reacquaint ourselves with the inner wisdom of the body as we explore true physical hunger, taste satisfaction and the seven hungers.
